

Copay Maximizer

Helps Save You Money on Specialty Drugs

For some people, the high out-of-pocket cost of specialty drugs can create financial hardship which puts patients in a bind: they want to get better, but the cost of specialty drugs is beyond their budget. Specialty drugs are high-cost prescription medications used to treat complex, chronic conditions like cancer, rheumatoid arthritis and multiple sclerosis.

To address this challenge, your health plan includes a benefit enhancement called the HealthSmartRx Copay Maximizer<sup>SM</sup> program. This program can minimize the financial burdens for certain medicines by making them more affordable for participating members and their covered family members. The program uses manufacturer's assistance dollars to lower member copays. If you are diagnosed with a condition and the recommended therapy includes expensive specialty drugs, our patient advocate will proactively reach out to help you enroll with manufacturer's assistance programs. The program utilizes manufacturer assistance dollars to lower member copays.
